Dear Cheryl:

I would like to thank you for being a presenter at the Spring Quality Conference 2001. Last week the conference committee met to critique the conference and plan for next year. A tabulation of the conference evaluation forms showed that all comments about your presentation were strongly positive. When you're Program Chair, you never get to enjoy the program. However, I did speak to several attendees at your session who were very complimentary.

Overall, the 330 conference attendees were very satisfied with the location, facilities, and program. The profits from the Spring Quality Conference support the many projects of the North Jersey American Society for Quality. Without professionals like yourself who are willing to share their knowledge and donate their time, ASQ would not be able to exist. Thanks again for helping make our Spring Quality Conference 2001 a success.

Sincerely,

Robert English
Program Chair
